October 19 1944 Auschwitz

137 Prisoner number 179852, Rosenbaum N. (error in surname) receives a bonus of 2 RM (Reich Marks)

The document on the previous page dated October 19th 1944 was the last one found on record from Auschwitz. At some point between this date and February 1945 Naftali is moved to the Gross Rosen Camp and then onto Buchenwald, during the time of the death marches.

The following sources (and many others) provide some clues as to Naftali's movements at this time.

DEATH MARCHES - this was the forced evacuations on foot of concentration and slave labor camps in the winter of 1944–45. With the onset of winter and Allied armies closing in on the Nazi concentration camps – the Soviets from the East and the British and Americans from the West – desperate SS officials attempted to evacuate the camps to remove the eyewitnesses and to conceal the crimes . Prisoners were moved westward in the dead of winter, forced to march toward the heartland of Germany, where their presence would be less incriminating.

On January 18, 1945, just days before the Red Army arrived at Auschwitz, 66,000 prisoners were marched to Wodzislaw, where they were put on freight trains to the Gross-Rosen, *Buchenwald, *Dachau, and *Mauthausen concentration camps. Almost one in four died en route.

Source: Encyclopedia Judaica

The Gross-Rosen concentration camp (Rogoźnica in Polish) was situated approximately 60 kilometres south- west of Wrocław

The Nazis began to close Gross-Rosen and its "subcamps" at the end of January 1945. The prisoners in the male satellite camps on the eastern bank of the Odra were moved to the main camp, while the female prisoners were made to set out on death marches, mostly to camps deep inside the Reich. Many prisoners died or were killed on the marches, and the fate of several marches remains unknown. The evacuation of the other branches and the main Gross-Rosen camp took place at the beginning of February 1945. Some Jews (especially women) were transported to Bergen-Belsen, others to Buchenwald, Dachau, Flossenbürg, Mauthausen and Mittelbau.

Naftali is listed under Political Belgian Jew. List number 360. New Prisoner number 128788 Rosenblum Naftali . Date of birth 15. 7. 06 Brussels Schneider . Auschwitz number 179852

It is reasonable to assume that the new year of birth was first changed & recorded at some point on or after his arrival at Auschwitz. Why? This new date of birth would set his age at 39 years old.

Some inmates from the Kanada Kommando who were on the ramp to collect the abandoned possessions of the new arrivals managed to pass some advice to help people survive initial selection. Act strong and healthy, claim to be between sixteen and forty years old, hand young children to elderly relatives. Some survived selection and ultimately the camps because of this simple advice

Source: Quora - but the upper age as yet not confirmed elsewhere.

Prisoner number 128.788

In the records of Buchenwald he arrived (überstellt) t on February 10th from Auschwitz in K.L. (Konzentrations-Lager - concentration camp) for the reason (Grund) given as being a Belgian Political prisoner, and a Jew.

Wohnort d. Angehörigen - Place of residence of family members, his wife (Ehef.) & child - Gauchin 73 - was actually rue GAUCHERET in Brussels where they live at the beginning of the war. w.o. (i.e. wie oben) means as above

Under Strafen im Lager (punishments in the camp) it is written todesursache - cause of death herzschwäche - heart weakness bei Bronchitis u Grippe- due to Bronchitis and the flu

In our documents of the Buchenwald concentration camp it is noted cause of death: "heart failure in bronchitis and influenza " We would like to note that the actual cause of death was often concealed and a "neutral" cause of death was registered. One reason for this was that the surviving relatives and the population were unable to draw any direct conclusions about the conditions in the concentration camps (inadequate food, hygiene, heavy labour, etc.) and about the systematic killing of prisoners.

"The heroic fighter Nathan Rozenblum" Nathan Rozenblum was one the most beautiful figures of the jewish worker immigrants in Belgium.

He was born in Warsaw on the 15th october 1900. At the age of 12 he was obliged to start an apprenticeship as a tailor, and from his early years became a professional activist within the Warsaw tailors trade-union.

During 1923, he was arrested because of his revolutionary activities and was the sentenced to 3 years jail in the prison known as the Prison of Brisk (Brest Livotsk) from which he left with poor health.

He carried on his trade-union activities and led important strikes during the years 1927-1928 which resulted in victories. Because of his activities, he was often detained and searched by the police which contributed to a deterioration in his health.

In 1930, he arrived in Belgium . From the first day, he got involved in social work, more precisely organizing political associations that focussed on helping political prisoners. As an active member in the trade union for tailors and with help of other jewish workers, he set up a "jewish section" despite the firm opposition of the leader (of the trade-union), the well-known antisemite, Mr Liébart.

During the war, Natan was amongst the most active resistance fighters, leading sabotage activities against the Germans, being a guiding member of the "Comité de Défense des Juifs" and editing the newspaper "Le flambeau".

On April 3rd 1944, he was going to an appointment and was recognized by the traitor "Fat Jacques", a well known jewish traitor and was deported the following day to Auschwitz. All the comrades who went with him to the camp were witness to his attitude, full of extraordinary courage who helped others. Unfortunately, he didn't survived to see the Liberation.

He died on the 13 may in Buchenwald, survived by his wife and by a son who's continuing the heroic fight for which his father died.

* The jewish traitor "fat Jacques" was in reality named Icek Glowoski. He denouced many jews in Brussels but was finally killed by the Nazi's.
